GRANTS & LOANS

USDA Rural Development (RD) forges partnerships with rural communities, funding projects that bring housing, community facilities, business guarantees, utilities, and other services to rural America. Working with low-income individuals; state, local, and tribal governments; private and non-profit organizations; and user-owned cooperatives, RD provides technical assistance and financial backing to create quality jobs in rural areas. RD also promotes the President's National Energy Policy—and ultimately the country's energy security—by engaging the entrepreneurial spirit of rural America in the development of renewable energy and energy efficiency improvements. Acting as an extension of client staff, WithersRavenel walks applicants through the application process and ensures that you are presenting the best possible package.
